I am a Child of China

"I am a Child of China" tells the true growth story of children of different ethnic groups. Following the footage of the film, you can not only see the pure smiling faces of the children, but also enjoy the customs and cultures of different nationalities.

In addition to cultural inheritance, children's dreams are another theme of the documentary. These dreams seem so "raw". The film team traveled more than 300,000 kilometers in 11 provinces, five autonomous regions and hundreds of villages for four years to capture this first-hand footage.

Audiences will enjoy more from the film to the uncarved natural scenery, feel the national customs after the time of panning, know a group of children growing up in China's various ethnic groups.
